Many of us who are Asian Pacific Islanders, or work with API communities are actively concerned about climate change and environmental justice.

This is a mixer to meet each other, learn about what others are doing, and hear from the API Environmental Justice Committee. The API EJ Committee works to promote an engaged and empowered Asian Pacific Islander community that advocates for a healthy, equitable and sustainable earth for all.

The EJ Committee is a part of the Asian Pacific Policy & Planning Council (IA3PCON) an association of forty-five community-based nonprofit organizations in Los Angeles County.
