Our Challenge:

Since March 2012, a change in leadership and a subsequent change in the direction and philosophy of the Department occurred that led Los Angeles County out of alignment with the national child welfare agenda of safety, well-being and permanency. An increase in child fatalities, increase in out-of-home placements, decrease in family services, elimination of key strategies, and a reduction in efforts has the Los Angeles community standing together with one voice declaring that enough is enough. The CCWC wont stop until families have the Leadership, Child Safety, and Resourceful Partnerships they need to keep their families together.
